HAY FROM OGDEN TO GERMANY.

With the opening of the Panama canal, there is a possibility that hay from Ogden can be shipped to Germany at profit. Germany each year imports from 100,000 to 150,000 tons of timothy, clover and alfalfa hay, paying an average of $22 a ton. Alfaifa is not as well known in Germany as other kinds of hay, but our consul general at Hamburg says it is becoming popular and ranks with tim-

Last year alfalfa sold at $22.84 3 ton. Allowing $4 a ton from Ogden to San Francisco and $5 a ton for ocean transportation, a net price of $13.84 would be obtained at Hamburg.

Alfalfa at $10 a ton would prove a in Central America hostility against most profitable crop and yield a high rate of interest on land valued at $100 an acre.

MONROE DOCTRINE SHOULD BE CHANGED.

The Standard repeatedly has said that the Monroe doctrine has served its usefulness and the maintaining of protecting hands over the Latin American republics is unnecessary.

The Monroe doctrine originally was promulgated for the purpose of preventing the spread of monarchial despotism on the western continent and of keeping this nation free from contact with old-world powers, although Great Britain at that time held possession of Canada. Since then a great change in governments has been brought about. Today there is no reason for us becoming alarmed even that hugs close to the cliffs of the though Germany gains a foothold in Wasatch east of Ogden, and, it folsouthern Brazil, or Great Britain takes a part of Argentina. Either republic might be benefited by the aggrandizements of the European pow-

Above all, the South American countries resent our guardianship and view It as a selfish move on our part looking to the time when the weaker republics are to be dominated by the United States. To wipe out this feel ing of resentment, it will be necessary to so modify the Monroe doctrine as to make evident that the Uni ted States does not aim to do other than promote the independent welfare of every South American republic

Hiram Bingham, professor of Latin-American history, and curator of the collection on Latin-America at Yale, lately made an address on the Monroe doctrine, in which he said:

From the Latin-American point of view, the continuance of the Monroe doctrine is insulting and is bound to involve us in serious difficulties with ted within a few hundred of $10,000 our neighbors. We seem to be blind or just about $300 per acre per year

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE IS WEAK.

President Woodrow Wilson was to have delivered a personal message to congress this afternoon, setting forth the attitude of the American government toward Mexico. At the last mo ment. Huerta, through his foreign sec retary, requested that the message be delayed twenty-four hours and the request has been granted

The forecast of the message as car ried by the Associated Press does not impress us as an exceptionally strong document, as it simply recites that Huerta had been urged to eliminate himself from the presidential contest n Mexico and make provisions for an election; that the dictator's failure ca, such as Brazil, Argentina and government and bring about a policy Chile. We need to arouse the aver of non-interference by this country: that Americans will be alded to leave Mexico.

We cannot see how such a course can have any terrors for Huerta. He should welcome the policy of aloofness on the part of the United States, and his declination to comply with the American plans should strengthen him with his followers.

There is only one thing Huerta could desire from this country and that is recognition of his administration, on which he might borrow money to continue the war with the Constitutionalists, and recognition being

He is essentially a cutthroat, an assassin and no sentiments of right conduct appeal to him unless therein is found something to promote his own welfare. He will yield to nothing that does not threaten his own safety. Had he been told that the United States would not be responsible for arms shipped over the border, he might have hesitated in rejecting the message that President Wilson sent him.

Huerta may be in desperate straits wing to the lack of funds with which to pay his troops and keep up the other expenses of the war, and that may be the one thing to cause him to think seriously of making a pre tense at accepting American guid ance. ANGLO-JAP ALLIANCE

Startling Revelations Are Made in the Diary of the Late Count Hayaski - Japan Was Opposed to Germany Coming Into the Deal

Campbell Heaters and Rotary Air

THE two are as inseparable as they are incomparable. When you use the Rotary Air Movement with any other system you lose its enormous benefits.

Why? Because A. K. Campbell invented the Rotary Air idea and only by his patented method of operation is the rotating air fresh, pure and free from gas, soot and scorching.

Campbell's Heater

is of marvelous durability; our old heaters, many of them in use a quarter century are in first class working order today, not only in homes but in churches, schools, hotels, etc.

With the Campbell Heater there are no leaky valves, tubes, etc.; no loss of heat-delivery from lime-eaten radiators.

And Campbell Heaters burn any kind of fuel. Slack, hard or soft coal; wood, natural gas, etc. You have only to adjust the patent damper. On Page 27 of our booklet, you will find this letter-"I have used maple wood with good results.
